P R E F A C E

By issuing, for the first time, a complete printed catalogue of the books, pamphlets, manuscripts, and maps in the Society's library, the Council of the Surrey Archæological Society hope that they may at once make the library more useful to members, and increase the membership. It is hoped also that the library itself may be increased by the gifts of members and friends who will see what are the principal gaps in various series which require filling, and what class of publications and manuscripts is chiefly wanted.

The library of an Archæological Society should contain as full a collection as possible of works illustrating every phase of the life, past and present, of the particular county in which it exists. It should aim at a collection of works bearing upon the immediately surrounding counties, and upon families genealogically connected with its own county who have before or since that connection resided elsewhere. Archæological, historical, and genealogical collections in general, and books of reference on these subjects, should find a place in it. The Surrey Archæological Society exchanges Transactions with the Societies, a list of which is appended :

LIST OF SOCIETIES IN UNION.

Architectural Societies of Northants, York, Lincoln, Bedford, etc.,
The Associated.
Bristol and Gloucestershire Archæological Society.
Bruxelles, Société d'Archéologie de.
Buckinghamshire Architectural and Archæological Society.
Cambridge Antiquarian Society.

Cambridgeshire and Huntingdonshire Archæological Society.
 Chester Archæological and Historical Society.
 Cornwall, Royal Institution of.
 Derbyshire Archæological Society.
 East Hertfordshire Archæological Society.
 Essex Archæological Society.
 Ireland, The Royal Societies of Antiquaries of.
 Kent Archæological Society.
 London, The Society of Antiquaries of.
 Minnesota Historical Society, America.
 Newcastle-upon-Tyne, The Society of Antiquaries of.
 New England Historic and Genealogical Society.
 Norfolk and Norwich Archæological Society.
 Powys-Land Club.
 Royal Archæological Institute.
 Royal Historical Society.
 Royal Institute of British Architects.
 Scotland, The Society of Antiquaries of.
 Shropshire Archæological and Natural History Society.
 Smithsonian Institution, America.
 Société Jersiaise.
 Somerset Archæological and Natural History Society.
 Stockholm, Kongl. Vitterhets Historie och Antiquitets Akadamen.
 Suffolk Institute of Archæology and Natural History.
 Sussex Archæological Society.
 Thoresby Society, Leeds.
 Worcester Society of Antiquity, America.
 Yorkshire Archæological Society.

The Society possesses a large number of the past issues of these and of some other Societies, and will receive all future issues of these as they appear. H.M. Public Record Office has supplied the whole of the valuable Calendars to the Patent Rolls now appearing, and will continue the series. H.M. Public Record Office has also given some other of their publications, including the two volumes of the "Annales Monastici," which contain the Bermondsey and Waverley Annals.

The Society subscribes to the Harleian Society, and has a considerable number of the former issues.

The volumes of the Surrey Parish Registers Society will be added to the library as they appear.

A complete set of the Home Counties Magazine up to the present year will be shortly added to the library.

A complete set of the 6-inch Ordnance Maps of Surrey is in the library.

The principal gaps in sets which the Council would be glad to see filled are Vols. I., III., IV., V., VIII., XIII., XVI. of the Sussex Archæological Society's Transactions, Vols. I. and III. of the Archæologia Cantiana, all volumes after Vol. I. of the Berkshire Archæological Society's Transactions, and all volumes after Vols. I. and II. of the Hampshire Field Club's Proceedings. These, with the publications of the Hampshire Record Society, would complete the principal publications of the immediately neighbouring counties, except London and Middlesex.

It is hoped that with the co-operation of members these omissions may be made good by gift or purchase.

The Society possesses a certain number of old deeds, and others have been deposited with it on loan. Pending the establishment of local Record Offices the Society asks for the gift or loan of deeds dealing with property in the county, and would receive with special pleasure, and carefully preserve if on loan, old Court Rolls of Surrey manors. Estate catalogues and estate maps are also desired. Maps such as are prepared when highways are diverted and when railways are made are also valuable. Catalogues and maps of this kind are generally put aside after their immediate use is over and forgotten or destroyed, but they preserve old names, boundaries, lines of road, etc., and may become very valuable. Another useful addition would be old views of any kind. The generosity of Lord Ashcombe and others has already provided many old prints of churches, etc., but old prints, water-colours, and pencil sketches, photographs (permanent), and architectural drawings, especially such as show old buildings since pulled down or altered, would be highly valued.

Genealogies of families in the county, parish registers in print or in manuscript copies, and any local pamphlets or parish histories concerning Surrey which are not yet in the collection, would be thankfully accepted.

Sermons, which are catalogued under this head, and accounts of trials are of no great use unless they bear upon some genealogical question or point of ownership of Surrey estates.

The Society does not want to add to the library scientific works, however valuable, nor other publications without archæological, antiquarian, historical, genealogical, or topographical interest. These, where they have been already acquired, have been eliminated from the catalogue, except in the case of their being already bound up with works of a character suitable for an Archæological Society's library.

In conclusion, the thanks of the Council are due to Mr. Elsley, librarian, who originally undertook the heavy task of compiling the list of books in the library.

H. E. MALDEN,
Chairman of Library Committee.
